Computer Aided Drug Designing:
A Customized and Innovative Solution to the Greatest Challenges in Chemistry

"Phase I"- January 11 – 16, 2021

Organized by
Amar Shaheed Baba Ajit Singh Jujhar Singh Memorial

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

BELA(Ropar) Punjab

ABOUT STTP:

The computational procedures i.e. Computer-Aided Drug Design (CADD) in drug revelation and advancement process is quickly picking up fame and appreciation over traditional drug discovery process. Computer aided rational drug design is an effective trade-off for medicinal chemists and finds a comprehensive solution to their various research problems. This program aims to provide a firm understanding about the various fields of drug designing including, fragment-based drug designing (FBDD), Ligand-based drug designing (LBDD), Structure based drug designing (SBDD) and QSAR classification/regression model building. Moreover, this programme will provide a premier interdisciplinary platform for researchers, practitioners and educators to discuss the most recent innovations, trends, and concerns as well as practical challenges encountered and solutions adopted in the fields of computational chemistry.

TOPICS TO BE COVERED:

- Molecular Docking
- Pharmacophore Modelling
- Protein Structure Prediction
- Structure Based Drug Design
- Scaffold Hopping
- Cloud Computing
- 2D/3D QSAR Approaches
- Target Identification and Validation
- Virtual Screening
- Fragment Based Drug Design
- Neural Network in Drug Design
- Risks Associated with New Drug Development

WHO CAN ATTEND:

The faculty members of the AICTE approved institutions, research scholar, and industry persons can apply. There is NO REGISTRATION FEE for participants. Selection will be done based on first come first serve basis. Decision of the Programme Monitoring Committee (PMC) will be final in all regards.

An evaluation test will be conducted at the end of program and E-Certificates will be issued only to those participants attending all sessions of STTP and qualify the test with minimum 60% marks.
